Your Monthly Gas Use At a Glance

Heating Degree Day: A measure of coldness based on the extent to which the daily mean temperature falls below 65°F. For example, on a day when the mean temperature is 35°F, there would be 30 heating degree days experienced.

Units:

- CCF = Hundred Cubic Feet
- MCF = Thousand Cubic Feet

Charges

Due Date/Late Charge: Please pay your bill by the due date to avoid a late charge.

Franchise Fee: This fee is charged by cities and counties for the use of alleys, streets and rights-of-ways for gas lines. The fee is based on the amount of each customer's bill.

Monthly Customer Charge: This is a fixed cost regardless of your usage and is applied to costs such as metering, billing and account maintenance.

Multiplier: Converts the metered unit of measure to the standard billing unit of measure, where applicable.

Pressure Factor: A factor by which the metered usage is multiplied to determine the actual usage billed.

Prorated Bill: If applicable, we will adjust, or prorate, the charges on bills with more or less than the standard days of service.

Purchased Gas Adjustment (PGA): This reflects the market increases and decreases in the price we pay for gas delivered to our customers. There is no markup, we simply recover the costs of gas. This rate can vary on a monthly basis as the cost of gas changes.

Read Type (Actual): If we are unable to read your meter, we will estimate your consumption for the month. The next actual read will self-correct the estimated read.

Taxes: This section shows state and local taxes and fees, including city franchise taxes, if applicable.

Volumetric Charge: The Volumetric Charge is part of the delivery charge that is calculated based on the amount of natural gas that is used during the billing period.

Weather Normalization Adjustment (WNA): A charge (during warmer than normal weather) or credit (during colder than normal weather) applied to your bill that is calculated based on usage and average temperatures during a billing period. This generally happens between October and April.

PIPELINE RIGHTS OF WAY: Yellow warning markers show the approximate route of larger pipelines and how to contact the operator. The right of way for a pipeline must always be kept clear of any obstructions, such as buildings, cars, or debris.

CALL BEFORE YOU DIG: Striking an underground utility line while digging can cause injuries, disrupt service to an entire neighborhood, and result in fines and repair costs. One free, easy call to 811 at least two working days prior to every digging project gets your utility lines marked and helps protect you from injury and expense - and it's the law! Visit www.call811.com for more information.
